I volunteer at the non-profit Tracyton Community Library in Tracyton, WA. The library received a form saying that we had to purchase WA Labor Law Posters for 2021. I contacted your office and was told that the letter was a scam and that I should file a consumer complaint. We did not order any posters.

Hello Ms. Cooper.

Our office received a complaint, (file # 578556) sent from Dawn Marie Woolsey for Tracyton Community Library. We appreciate the opportunity to respond. Below is our response.

"We do apologize for any confusion. The Labor Law Poster Service is a non-governmental service that provides laminated colored labor law posters for businesses. We have served companies across the entire United States for over 2 decades. Businesses with employees are required by state and federal law to post current labor laws and OSHA postings. Notices are sent out periodically to businesses to offer our services. The library must have recently received one of our solicitations. Our mailings clearly state in bold and in capital type on the envelope and throughout the mailing that we are not a government agency and do not have a contract with the government to provide this service. There is no obligation to use our services, but our service does satisfy what is mandated for employers. Our records do indicate that no orders have been placed with our company for our services. To be removed from the mailing list, the complainant may forward the Keycode from the solicitation to cs@llpsinc.com or call our Customer Service department at 877-321-4144. We do apologize for any misunderstanding and regret any inconvenience."

Please let me know if you have any questions in regard to this matter.
