POLICY

Section:

Policy: "At-Will" Employment Origination Date:

Revision Date: 7/25/2013

STATEMENT OF POLICY

Nothing contained in any materials or information distributed by the organization creates a contract of employment between an employee and Labor Law Poster Service. Employment is on an at-will basis. This means that employees are free to resign their employment at any time, for any or no reason, with or without notice, and Labor Law Poster Service retains the same right. No statements to the contrary, written or oral, made either before or during an individual's employment can change this. No individual supervisor, manager or other officer can make a contrary agreement, except the President of Labor Law Poster Service, and even then, such an agreement must be set forth in a written employment contract with the employee, signed by the President.

PROCEDURES

All employees will be required to read, understand and execute a Handbook Acknowledgment form that tells them that an "at-will" employment relationship has been established for their employment with Labor Law Poster Service

POLICY

Section:

Policy: Open Communication/Dispute Resolution

Origination Date: 8/22/10

Revision Date: 7/25/2013

STATEMENT OF POLICY

At Labor Law Poster Service, we believe that communication is the heart of good employee relations. Employees should share their concerns, seek information, provide input and resolve work-related issues by discussing them with their supervisors until they are fully resolved.

PROCEDURES

It may not be possible to achieve the results an employee wants, but the supervisor needs to attempt to explain in each case why a certain course of action is preferred. If an issue cannot be resolved at that level, the employee is welcome to discuss the issue with the manager of his/her department. The supervisor should set up a time for both of them to meet with the manager.

Regardless of the situation, employees should be able to openly discuss any work-related problems and concerns without fear of retaliation. Managers and supervisors are expected to listen to employee concerns, encourage their input and seek resolution to the issues and concerns. Often this will require setting a meeting in the near future. Managers and/or supervisors are to set these meetings as quickly as possible, and employees are expected to understand that issues may not always be addressed at the moment they arise. Discussing these issues and concerns with management will help to find a mutually acceptable solution for nearly every situation.

If an employee has a concern about discrimination and/or harassment, Labor Law Poster Service has set up special procedures to report and address those issues. The proper reporting procedures are set forth in the organization's Harassment and Discrimination Policy.

POLICY

Section:

Policy: Equal Employment Opportunity Policy Statement

Origination Date: 8/22/10

Revision Date: 7/25/2013

STATEMENT OF POLICY

In order to provide equal employment and advancement opportunities to all individuals, employment decisions at Labor Law Poster Service will be based on merit, qualifications and abilities. Equal employment opportunity is not only good practice, it's the law and applies to all areas of employment, including recruitment, selection, hiring, training, transfer, promotion and demotion, layoff and recall, termination, compensation and benefits.

As an equal opportunity employer, Labor Law Poster Service does not discriminate in its employment decisions on the basis of race, religion, color, national origin, gender, age, disability, veteran status or any other basis that would be in violation of any applicable federal, state or local law.

PROCEDURES

Any employee with questions or concerns about any type of discrimination in the workplace should bring these issues to the attention of their immediate supervisor or the HR Manager. Employees can raise concerns and make reports without fear of reprisal. Anyone found to be engaging in any type of unlawful discrimination will be subject to disciplinary action, up to and including termination of employment.

POLICY

Section:

Policy: Unlawful Harassment / Discrimination

Origination Date: 8/22/10

Revision Date: 7/25/2013

STATEMENT OF POLICY

Labor Law Poster Service strives to maintain a workplace that fosters mutual employee respect and promotes harmonious, productive working relationships. Our organization believes that discrimination and/or harassment in any form constitutes misconduct that undermines the integrity of the employment relationship. Therefore, Labor Law Poster Service prohibits discrimination and/or harassment that is sexual, racial or religious in nature or is related to anyone's gender, national origin, age, sexual orientation, disability or veteran's status. This policy applies to all employees throughout the organization and all individuals who may have contact with any employee of this organization.

PROCEDURES

Unwelcome sexual advances, requests for sexual favors, or other verbal, visual or physical conduct of a harassing nature will constitute harassment when a person involved feels compelled to submit to that misconduct in order to keep his or her position, to receive appropriate pay, or to benefit from certain employment decisions. If this type of misconduct interferes with an employee's work or creates an intimidating, hostile or offensive work environment, it may also be considered harassment.

Labor Law Poster Service expects that everyone will act responsibly to establish a pleasant and friendly work environment. However, if an employee feels he/she has been subjected to any form of harassment and/or discrimination, the employee should firmly and clearly tell the person engaging in the harassing and/or discriminating conduct that it is unwelcome, offensive and should stop at once. The employee also should report any discrimination and/or harassment to his/her immediate supervisor, department head or Human Resources. That person will take the necessary steps to initiate an investigation of the discrimination and/or harassment claim.

Labor Law Poster Service will conduct an investigation in as confidential a manner as possible. A timely resolution of each complaint will be reached and communicated to the employee and the other parties involved. Appropriate disciplinary action, up to and including termination, will be taken promptly against any employee engaging in discrimination and/or harassment. Retaliation against any employee for filing a complaint or participating in an investigation is strictly prohibited. However, any employee that knowingly makes a false claim of harassment and/or discrimination will be subject to disciplinary action up to and including termination.

POLICY

Section:

Policy: Drug Free Workplace & Substance Abuse

Origination Date: 8/22/10

Revision Date: 7/25/2013

STATEMENT OF POLICY

The use of illegal drugs and alcohol, and the abuse of legal prescription pharmaceuticals, account for tremendous losses in efficiency and attendance. These abuses also diminish the safety of all employees and visitors, impair the reputation of Labor Law Poster Service, and violate state and federal laws. In addition, the use and abuse of drugs and alcohol can have severe health consequences and lead to the destruction of family unity. For these reasons, Labor Law Poster Service has adopted a zero tolerance drug and alcohol policy. With this policy, it is the intention of the company to use every lawful means to establish and maintain a drug and alcohol free workplace.

PROCEDURES

Illegal drugs are substances that are controlled or outlawed, are not obtainable by lawful methods, or are legally obtainable but were not obtained in a lawful manner.

This policy prohibits the use, sale, manufacture, distribution or possession of alcohol or illegal drugs, drug paraphernalia or any combination thereof, on any company premises or at any location where the employee is performing his/her job duties. Violation of this policy will subject the employee to disciplinary action up to and including immediate discharge, and may have legal consequences.

Labor Law Poster Service shall have the right to require any employee to submit to drug and/or alcohol testing under the following circumstances:

1. Post-Accident – Where the employee was involved in an accident that resulted in property damage or physical injury, requiring professional medical treatment beyond first aid, to any person.
2. Reasonable Suspicion – Upon the belief of management that the employee may have alcohol or illegal drugs in his system while at work or while performing his job duties away from the workplace.

This list is not meant to limit the circumstances under which a drug or alcohol test may be required. Labor Law Poster Service can test for the presence of alcohol or illegal drugs for other lawful purposes.

For purposes of this policy, a positive or failure of a drug or alcohol test shall consist of the presence of any detectable amount of an illegal drug or alcohol in the employee's system when tested. Similarly, refusal to submit to a drug or alcohol test when requested by the company, or any attempt to interfere with the test or alter the sample, also constitutes failure of the test and will result in a candidate being removed from the applicant pool, and will make an employee subject to discipline up to and including discharge.

POLICY

Section:

Policy: Drug Free Workplace & Substance Abuse (con't)

Origination Date: 8/22/10

Revision Date: 7/25/2013

PROCEDURES

If an employee is using medication prescribed by a licensed physician, he or she is responsible for obtaining assurances from that physician that the medication will not impair the employee's judgment or ability to safely and efficiently perform job duties.

Any employee who knows or believes that there is unlawful involvement by other employees, vendors or guests with illegal drugs or alcohol contrary to this policy, should immediately refer this information to his/her supervisor or to the HR Manager. Labor Law Poster Service will utilize all lawful investigative techniques in response to this information. Evidence obtained by the company of the unlawful use, manufacture, trafficking, distribution or possession of controlled substances will be provided to the appropriate law enforcement authorities.

All employees must, as a condition of employment, abide by the terms of this policy and must report any convictions under a criminal drug statute for violations occurring on or off company premises. This report must be made within five days of a conviction and is mandated by the Drug Free Workplace Act of 1988.

This policy does not limit the right of the company to invoke disciplinary action for any unauthorized activity not enumerated above.

POLICY

Section:

Revision Date: 7/25/2013

STATEMENT OF POLICY

POLICY

Section:

Policy: Weapons

Origination Date: 8/22/10

Revision Date: 7/25/2013

- Any form of weapon or explosive;
- All firearms; and
- All illegal knives or knives with blades that are more than six (6) inches in length.

PROCEDURES

If an employee is unsure whether an item is covered by this policy, please contact the HR Manager. Employees are responsible for making sure that any item they possess is not prohibited by this policy.

While the organization has a policy prohibiting weapons, nothing in this statement shall be construed as creating any duty or obligation on the part of Labor Law Poster Service to take any actions beyond those required of an employer by existing law.

POLICY

Section:

Policy: Violence in the Workplace

Origination Date: 8/22/10

Revision Date: 7/25/2013

STATEMENT OF POLICY

The safety and security of all employees is of primary importance at Labor Law Poster Service. Threats, threatening and abusive behavior, or acts of violence against employees, visitors, customers or other individuals by anyone on Labor Law Poster Service property will not be tolerated. Violations of this policy will lead to accelerated disciplinary action, not corrective action, up to and including termination and/or referral to appropriate law enforcement agencies for arrest and prosecution. Labor Law Poster Service can and will take any necessary legal action to protect its employees, customers and property.

PROCEDURES

Any person who makes threats, exhibits threatening behavior or engages in violent acts on company premises shall be removed from the premises as quickly as safety permits and shall remain off company premises pending the outcome of the investigation. Following investigation, the organization will initiate an immediate and appropriate response. This response may include, but is not limited to, suspension and/or termination of any business relationship, suspension or termination of employment and/or criminal prosecution of the person or persons involved.

All employees are responsible for notifying management of any threats that they witness or receive or that they are told another person witnessed or received. Even without a specific threat, all employees should report any behavior that they have witnessed that they regard as potentially threatening or violent or which could endanger the health or safety of an employee when the behavior has been carried out on a company-controlled site or is connected to company employment or company business. Employees are responsible for making this report regardless of the relationship between the individual who initiated the threatening behavior and the person or persons being threatened. The organization understands the sensitivity of the information requested and has developed confidentiality procedures that recognize and respect the privacy of the reporting employee.

POLICY

Section:

Policy: Right To Search / No Privacy Expectations

Origination Date: 8/22/10

Revision Date: 7/25/2013

STATEMENT OF POLICY

Access to Labor Law Poster Service premises is conditioned upon its right to inspect or search the person, vehicle or personal effects of any employee or visitor. This may include any employee's office, desk, computer & related equipment, file cabinet, closet, locker, lunchbox, clothing or similar place. Employees should have no expectation of privacy in connection with any of these listed places. Because even a routine inspection or search might result in the viewing of an employee's personal possessions, employees are encouraged not to bring any item of personal property to the workplace that they do not want revealed to others in the company.

PROCEDURES

Any prohibited materials (or materials that may be found to be prohibited) that are found in an employee's possession during an inspection or search will be collected and retained by management. If the prohibited materials prove to be illegal and/or dangerous, they will not be returned to the employee but may be turned over to the appropriate authorities.

From time to time, and without prior announcement, inspections or searches may be made of anyone entering, leaving, or on the premises or property of the company (including alcohol and/or drug screens or other testing). Refusal to cooperate in such an inspection or search (including alcohol and/or drug screens) shall be grounds for disciplinary action, up to and including termination.

POLICY

Section:

Policy: Confidential & Proprietary Information

Origination Date: 8/22/10

Revision Date: 7/25/2013

STATEMENT OF POLICY

Employees of Labor Law Poster Service will receive and have access to information that is confidential in nature to the organization, its customers and vendors. Employees are not to disclose any such confidential information to (a) any other person in the organization; or (b) any person outside the organization unless management has expressly stated in writing that the information can be disclosed to that person. This obligation exists after the employee leaves the organization

PROCEDURES

The organization has developed certain proprietary processes that are unique to the organization. Keeping such information from competitors plays an important part in our success. The organization protects proprietary information by restricting employee and visitor access to certain designated areas and access to documents to only those who have business reasons to view them.

All employees are asked to sign an agreement at the beginning of employment that prohibits the disclosure of any matters affecting or relating to Labor Law Poster Service's business including, but not limited to, the names of and confidential information concerning Labor Law Poster Service's clients, debtors, trade secrets, manner of operations, electronic data processing systems, insurance rates or any other information concerning Labor Law Poster Service's business, except as required in employee's duties to Labor Law Poster Service.

Upon termination of employment, Employee will promptly deliver to Employer all manuals, identification cards, health cards, letters, notes, notebooks, reports and all other materials of a secret or confidential nature relating to Employer's business and which are in possession of the Employee.

POLICY

Section:

Policy: Ethics & Conflicts of Interest

Origination Date: 8/22/10

Revision Date: 7/25/2013

STATEMENT OF POLICY

Employees are expected to use good judgment, adhere to high ethical standards and avoid situations that create an actual or perceived conflict between their personal interests and those of the organization. Labor Law Poster Service requires that the transactions employees participate in are ethical and within the law, both in letter and in spirit.

PROCEDURES

Labor Law Poster Service recognizes that different organizations have different codes of ethics. However, just because a certain action may be acceptable by others outside of Labor Law Poster Service as "standard practice", that is by no means sufficient reason to assume that such practice is acceptable at our organization. There is no way to develop a comprehensive, detailed set of rules to cover every business situation. The tenets of this policy outline some basic guidelines for ethical behavior at Labor Law Poster Service. Whenever employees are in doubt, they should consult their manager.

Conflicts of interests or unethical behavior may take many forms including, but not limited to, the acceptance of gifts from competitors, vendors, potential vendors or customers of the organization. Gifts may only be accepted if they have a nominal value and only on appropriate occasions (for example, a holiday gift). Employees are cautioned not to accept any form of remuneration or non-business related entertainment, nor may employees sell to third parties any information, products or materials acquired from the organization. Employees may engage in outside business activities, provided such activities do not adversely affect the organization or the employee's job performance and the employee does not work for a competitor, vendor or customer. Employees are prohibited from engaging in financial participation, outside employment or any other business undertaking that is competitive with, or prejudicial to, the best interests of Labor Law Poster Service. Employees may not use proprietary and/or confidential information for personal gain or to the organization's detriment, nor may they use assets or labor for personal use.

If an employee or someone with whom the employee has a close personal relationship has a financial or employment relationship with a competitor, vendor, potential vendor or customer of the organization, the employee must disclose this fact in writing to Human Resources. The organization will determine what course of action must be taken to resolve any conflict it believes may exist. If the conflict is severe enough, Labor Law Poster Service may be forced to ask the employee to tender his/her resignation. Labor Law Poster Service has sole discretion to determine whether such a conflict of interest exists.

Should any employee become aware of what he or she believes to be unethical or illegal action with any connection to the organization or its' business associates, that employee has the duty and responsibility to immediately report that information to management for investigation. Failure to do so will subject the employee to discipline up to and including termination. Employees may contact Human Resources to report anything that they cannot discuss with their manager.

POLICY

Section:

Individuals who claim to possess certain educational credentials and/or work experience, either in writing or in an interview, are subject to verification.

POLICY

Section:

Policy: Hours of Work

Origination Date: 8/22/10

Revision Date: 7/25/2013

STATEMENT OF POLICY

The standard workweek is forty (40) hours. Thirty two (35) hours per week is considered full time status. The standard workday is eight (8) hours for nonexempt workers. Workday lengths for exempt employees are determined primarily by the hours required to accomplish their current workloads. General business hours are from 8:00 a.m. to 8:00 p.m. daily.

PROCEDURES

As starting and ending times vary within departments and office locations, the manager of each department will determine the schedule for his or her department.

A paid meal period is provided to any employee who works a minimum of six (6) hours per day (minors five (5) hours). The normal meal period should occur approximately halfway through the workday. However, certain departments may require alternate meal periods. The length of the meal period will be thirty (30) minutes. Non-exempt employees, when leaving company premises, may be required to clock out for their lunch periods.

Non-exempt employees receive two ten-minute paid break periods for each full workday, one approximately a quarter of the way into the workday and one approximately three quarters into the workday. Labor Law Poster Service can modify an employee's starting and quitting time as well as the number of hours worked to accommodate business needs.

POLICY

Section:

Policy: Attendance & Punctuality

Origination Date: 8/22/10

Revision Date: 7/25/2013

STATEMENT OF POLICY

At Labor Law Poster Service we recognize the need for employees to be absent from work due to illness or the need to take care of personal business during the normal workday. Employees may qualify for a leave of absence for their own major illness, the major illness of a family member, the birth or adoption of a child, a workers' compensation injury or military and/or guard duty. Having provided for these situations, it is important to remember that excessive absenteeism, tardiness and/or leaving early causes other employees within the organization to have to bear the burden of filling in for the absent employee.

PROCEDURES

Employees who are not on an approved leave of absence and are absent from work will be addressed through the normal corrective action process.

The following corrective action steps that can be used to address attendance-related problems are:

First Incident.....Written Warning with Documentation to File

Second Incident.....Second Written Warning about Attendance Problem

Third Incident.....Final Written Warning

Fourth Incident.....Termination for Excessive Absenteeism

Consecutive days of absence for the same reason may be deemed to be one incident. If the employee is absent for more than two (2) consecutive days, he/she must bring a health care provider's certification of the absence for those days to be counted as one incident.

If at any time an employee corrects his or her excessive absence problem and has no unexcused absences during a six-month period, corrective action, if it becomes necessary again, will not accelerate to the next step in the process but will repeat the last step taken.

If an employee, who has been with the organization for less than 90 working days, exceeds six (6) points in any month he/she will be issued a Final Written Warning. If they exceed six (6) points again, after the Final Written Warning, within his or her first 90 days of employment, the employee will be terminated. If a new employee has no further incidents during his/her first 90 work days of employment, the Final Written Warning will be rescinded and treated as a Verbal Warning with Documentation to their File for any further corrective action required for excessive absences.

Periodically, special circumstances may occur that warrant an employee being excused from work. (example: highly contagious illness).

POLICY

Section:

Policy: Attendance & Punctuality (cont.)

Origination Date: 8/22/10

Revision Date: 7/25/2013

PROCEDURES

To ensure fairness throughout the organization, these types of requests require the approval of Management.

Occasionally an employee will exhibit a pattern of absenteeism that must be corrected. (Example: consistently missing a specific day of the week or the day before or after a holiday or scheduled vacation). Such cases will be reviewed with the HR Manager before issuing any corrective action.

Employees who are going to be absent, tardy or leaving early from work are responsible for notifying their supervisors as soon as possible, but at least one hour before their scheduled arrival time or at least one hour prior to leaving early. Employees who are absent and fail to so notify their supervisors will be immediately placed on attendance probation for failure to notify. If employee is already on attendance probation they will be terminated. Employees who have been absent for two (2) days (No Call / No Show) without direct notification to their supervisor or Human Resources will be considered to have voluntarily terminated their employment. All attendance policies and procedures are subject to change without notice. Please refer to the LLPS Point System for more information regarding attendance.

In order to ensure that all employees receive regular feedback on their performance, supervisors should evaluate the job performance of every employee who works for them on a regular basis. Performance reviews establish a performance history with the organization and are used in performance, promotion, transfer and merit increase decisions.

PROCEDURES

All original Performance Review Forms are maintained in the employee's personnel file in the Human Resources Department.

Supervisors should conduct regular, timely performance reviews. Exempt employees and non-exempt working in an office environment should be reviewed at least annually in conjunction with the standard review period. A performance evaluation is not necessarily linked with a salary increase. Supervisors may review performance more often than is required by the performance review policy.

Supervisors should use a coaching approach to help an employee grow in his/her position. Part of this process involves regular reviews to evaluate performance. Some factors considered are dependability, quality and quantity of work, interpersonal skills and judgment. The purpose of this evaluation is to guide an employee's progress in his/her current position, to discuss ways in which their performance can be improved, and when appropriate, explore his/her potential for advancement. These formal performance reviews are in addition to the informal meetings supervisors should have with employees throughout the review period.

Goals and objectives should be reviewed with the employee at the beginning of the review period to ensure that he/she understands all performance criteria. All new employees should be given goals and objectives within 90 days of beginning employment. The employee's performance should be reviewed periodically with feedback and direction regarding all performance criteria.

All Performance Review Forms should be reviewed with the supervisor's manager before the performance review conference takes place with the employee. The supervisor's manager should sign the Performance Review Form before it is reviewed with the employee to signify the manager's agreement with the contents of the Performance Review Form. When the Performance Review Form has been reviewed with the employee, the employee and the employee's supervisor need to sign it. An employee's signature on his/her performance evaluation only acknowledges that it has been reviewed with the employee. Employees should be encouraged to attach any written comments they wish to their performance reviews. The Performance Review Form with any employee comments will become a part of the employee's personnel file. The completed form should be forwarded to the Human Resources Department and a copy provided to the employee.

Labor Law Poster Service can and will access and read any and all information contained in computers, computer files, e-mail messages or voice mail messages. POLICY

Section:

Policy: Use of the Internet

Origination Date: 8/22/10

Revision Date: 7/25/2013

STATEMENT OF POLICY

The Internet is an exciting and interesting source of information and entertainment. The organization expects that any use of the Internet will be for business purposes only. Employees should see their supervisor to discuss any questions about the use of the Internet.

PROCEDURES

At the least, Labor Law Poster Service expects that employees will:

- not participate in chat groups unless their job specifically requires that they do so;
- include a disclaimer, when appropriate, explaining that their comments are their own and not necessarily those of the organization;
- not subscribe to any listserv that delivers more than 10 e-mails per day;
- unsubscribe from any listserv when they are out of the office; and
- not view any web sites that are sexual or inappropriate in nature.

In addition to e-mail, voice mail, IM and internet use, Labor Law Poster Service can and will access and review employee blogs to make sure those employees aren't posting things on their blogs that are potentially harmful to the organization. "Blog" is short for the term "Web log". It is an on-line journal or newsletter that is frequently updated and usually available publicly. Employees' on-duty and off-duty blogging will be reviewed since what you post in a blog may get more attention than what you do or say in any other forum. So if you choose to blog, be smart. If the things you say or the pictures you post would get you fired if publicly stated or displayed in our parking lot or local mall, you should expect those same things to get you fired if said or displayed on a blog.

Examples of things that you shouldn't say or post on a blog include, but are not limited to:

- Anything that potentially injures the organization's reputation;
- Anything that is not in the best interests of the organization;
- Anything that is embarrassing to the organization;
- Anything that disparages the organization's products, management or customers;
- Anything that interferes with employees' job duties or creates an undesirable work environment;
- Anything of the organization or others that are copyrighted, confidential or proprietary information, including working methods and procedures, financial and marketing strategies or plans and other sensitive business or financial information; or
- Any comments that could constitute discriminatory or harassing behavior under any policy of the organization.

POLICY

Section:

Policy: Family and Medical Leave Act Notification of Company Procedures & Employee Obligations

Origination Date: 8/22/10

Revision Date: 7/25/2013

STATEMENT OF POLICY

Labor Law Poster Service recognizes that there will be occasions where employees need to take a leave for reasons covered by the Family and Medical Leave Act of 1993 (FMLA).

PROCEDURES

Eligible employees may take FMLA leave subject to the following conditions and procedures:

1. Eligible employees may take up to a maximum of 12 work weeks of FMLA leave in a "rolling" twelve (12) month period. FMLA leave generally is unpaid. Any FMLA leave taken will reduce an employee's remaining available leave entitlement.
2. Whenever foreseeable, an employee must apply for leave, and provide at least 30 days' advance notice before taking an FMLA leave. Failure to give the required notice may result in denial of leave until 30 days after appropriate notice is given.
3. Medical certification will be required whenever an employee is requesting an FMLA leave because of the employee's, or a spouse, parent, or child's, serious health condition. Medical certification must be completed by a health care provider using a DOL Form 380, available through the HR Manager. Certification should be provided to the HR Manager prior to an employee's leave, and must be provided no later than 15 days after an FMLA leave request has been acknowledged. Failure to provide the required certification may result in denial of leave. At its expense, Labor Law Poster Service may require a second (and possibly third) health care provider's opinion certifying the existence of a serious health condition. Re-certification may be required at 30-day intervals, or more frequently in the event of a change of circumstances.
4. Employees on FMLA leave will be required to periodically report on their status and intent to return from leave.
5. Intermittent or reduced schedule FMLA leave will be permitted only where medically necessary. The organization temporarily may alter the position of an employee on such leave, or may require an employee on such leave to transfer temporarily to an alternative position, in order to better accommodate an employee's need for such leave.
6. While on FMLA leave, employees may not engage in other employment or work of any kind.

7. Accrued vacation and other paid leaves will be applied toward any FMLA-qualified leave and will run concurrently. After exhaustion of such paid leave, remaining FMLA will be unpaid.
8. While on FMLA leave, employees will be required to continue paying their portion of health insurance premiums. If the FMLA leave is covered by paid leave, premiums will be deducted as usual. If the FMLA leave is unpaid, the employee must remit payment at the same time due via payroll deduction. If the employee fails to make the required payments, the health insurance may be cancelled and the employee will remain responsible for the amount of the employee's share paid by the organization. The organization will take action to recover such monies.
9. Before being restored to employment, any employee who has taken an FMLA leave that was in any part attributable to the employee's serious health condition must submit to the organization a medical certification that the employee is fit for duty.
10. If an employee fails to return from an unpaid FMLA leave for reasons other than a serious health condition or circumstances beyond the employee's control, the employee is indebted to the organization for the amount of premiums paid by the employer to continue the employee's health (and any other) insurance coverage during the leave. The organization may take legal action against the employee to recover such monies. If the employee is unable to return from FMLA leave because of a serious health condition, medical certification substantiating the condition will be required.
11. Employees returning from FMLA leave will be reinstated to their former, or an equivalent, position.
12. Deductions for any hours of unpaid intermittent or reduced schedule FMLA leave may be made from the salaries of exempt or nonexempt employees.
13. Additional requirements regarding FMLA leave may apply to salaried employees among the top paid ten percent of organization employees. If you are such an employee, you will be informed by the HR Manager at the time that you request a leave of the potential consequences of taking FMLA leave.
14. Disciplinary action may be taken against employees who violate any of their obligations contained in this Notification or in the FMLA.
15. The organization may amend this Notification unilaterally at any time following notice to our employees.

Policy: Personal Leave of Absence

Origination Date: 8/22/10

Revision Date: 7/25/2013

STATEMENT OF POLICY

There may be a rare occasion when an employee is faced with an emergency or special circumstance and needs to take an unpaid personal leave of absence. Labor Law Poster Service recognizes such situations and may grant an unpaid personal leave of absence where appropriate to do so.

PROCEDURES

The employee's supervisor, in conjunction with Human Resources, may grant a personal leave of absence without pay. Each request for a leave of absence will be evaluated on an individual basis, taking into consideration length of service, work record, staffing needs and reason and length of the leave. To qualify for a personal leave of absence, the employee must be classified as a full-time employee and must have completed at least 6 months of full-time service at the time of the request.

Employees may apply for a personal leave of absence by submitting the proper paperwork to their supervisor at least two weeks prior to the start date of the leave requested, describing the nature of the leave, the dates the employee expects to be away from work and the date the employee intends to return. If the leave is an emergency in nature, the two-week requirement may be waived by Human Resources.

Generally, a personal leave of absence shall not exceed two (2) calendar weeks. A longer personal leave of absence may be granted only under extreme circumstances. Failure to report back to work on the first day after expiration of the leave of absence will be considered a voluntary termination of employment.

If an employee is granted and takes a personal leave of absence, his/her other benefits may be affected. The organization cannot guarantee employees their original position or an equivalent position will be available when they return.

Employees must notify Human Resources within 30 days of any qualifying event that would trigger COBRA eligibility for a spouse or dependent such as divorce or change in status of a dependent child.

Additional information on how employment separation will affect benefits, including information on COBRA health coverage, is available from the Human Resources Office.

If an employee elects not to participate in the group health plan at Labor Law Poster Service, the employee will not be entitled to COBRA continuation.

STATEMENT OF POLICY

Any employee reporting an on-the-job injury or illness will receive immediate and appropriate medical treatment. All applicable federal, state and local laws or regulations pertaining to occupational injuries or illnesses will be followed and complied with at all times.

PROCEDURES

It is the responsibility of all employees to report immediately in writing to their supervisor all on-the-job injuries or illnesses regardless of how insignificant or minor the injury or illness may appear at the time. Incident Report Forms will be provided for this purpose and may be obtained from any supervisor or Human Resources. The supervisor will then complete a Supervisor's Incident Investigation Report Form. These reports should be sent to the local workers' compensation office and Human Resources. Failure to report an injury or illness as required by organization policy could result in loss of compensation benefits and possibly lead to disciplinary action, up to and including termination.

When employees sustain an injury or illness that requires outside medical treatment, the employees will also be subject to completing a screening for the presence of drugs and/or alcohol in their system. When employees are involved in a mobile equipment accident that results in significant damage, the employees will be subject to completing a screening for the presence of drugs and/or alcohol in their system. Any employee who refuses screening for the presence of drugs and/or alcohol will be subject to immediate termination.
